

such children in equal shares; and if there are no such children then living, the share of such predeceased remainderman shall go to his or her heirs-at-law and next-of-kin in accordance with the South Carolina Statute of Descent and Distribution then in effect and determined as if such predeceased remainderman had died immediately after the death of Jean D. Prevost.

(d) Anything contained herein to the contrary notwithstanding, any trust herein continued or created for the benefit of the unmarried and surviving spouse of either remainderman shall not continue longer than 21 years after the death of the last survivor among the group consisting of Earle G. Prevost, Jane P. Bessinger, Colonel Donivan Bessinger, Jr., and Marshall Donivan Bessinger, and at the expiration of such period, any trust then in existence shall terminate and the principal shall be disposed of in accordance with Sub-paragraph (a) above as though the income beneficiary had died or remarried.

5. Additional grants. The Grantor reserves the right to himself or to any other person at any time by deed or will to add to the principal of the trust herein created and any property so added shall be held, administered, and distributed as part of such trust.

6. Powers of Trustee. In the administration of the trust, the Trustee shall have the following powers:

(a) He may retain the trust property received hereunder and any additional property which may be received by him in his absolute discretion even though such property is not income-producing property and may invest and reinvest the trust assets in such real or personal property of any kind or description as he in his absolute discretion may deem proper, although the same may not be of the character permitted for the investment of trust funds by the laws of the State of South Carolina or of any state in which such
