

and costs thereof from the income or principal of TRUST B but no part thereof shall be paid from TRUST A.

17. To terminate any separate trust or share if the principal should decrease to less than five thousand ($5,000) dollars in value, if the Trustee in its sole discretion should deem such action advisable, and thereupon to pay over the principal and undistributed income from such separate trust or share free and clear of all trust to the person or persons then entitled to receive the income, in the same proportions in which they are then entitled to receive such income.

18. To do all other acts, which in the judgment of the Trustee, may be necessary or advisable for the proper and advantageous management, investment and distribution of the trust property.

FIFTEENTH: The Trustee shall render to the Settlor annually an account of income and principal. The Settlor's written approval of said account shall as to all matters and transactions covered by said account be binding upon all who then or who may thereafter become entitled to the income or principal.

After the death of the Settlor, the Trustee shall each year render an account of its administration of each trust hereunder to the person or persons of full age entitled at the time to receive its income. Such person's or persons' written approval of such an account shall, as to all matters and transactions covered by said account be final and binding upon all persons (whether in being or not) who are then or may thereafter become entitled to share in either the income or principal of such trust. Nothing contained in this Article shall be deemed to give such person or persons acting in conjunction with the Trustee the power or right to enlarge or shift the beneficial interest of any beneficiary of the trust.

The Trustee shall keep the books of account open at all reasonable hours for inspection of the beneficiaries of the trusts and of their duly accredited representatives.

SIXTEENTH: Whenever distribution is to be made to "issue" of a person those children and more remote descendants of such person shall take who would