

later time. Such sums so drawn shall be charged to that partner, and at the annual accounting shall be charged against his share of the profits. If his share of the profits shall not be equal to the sum so drawn, he shall at once pay the deficiency into the firm. Such deficiency shall not draw any yearly rate of interest unless hereinafter set by mutual agreement.

(b) Prior to the date of April 30, 1933 or to any other date as amended, the net profit for each month, if any, shall be divided evenly between both partners on a monthly basis at a time and in a manner as determined by mutual agreement of the partners.

13. Any gross weekly draw to each partner as determined by mutual agreement may be raised at a future date, subject to the approval of both partners.

14. The signature of either partner shall be required on any check or debenture made from the firm account; the same shall also be required on any contract, agreement, loan, mortgage, or any other undertaking whatsoever which is done in the name of the partnership.

15. Neither of the partners shall, without the consent of the other, become bail or surety for any other person; nor lend, spend, give, or make away with any part of the partnership property; nor draw or accept any bill, note, or other security in the name of the said firm, except in the due course of the said partnership business.

16. No partner shall, without the consent of the other partner, compound, release, or discharge any debt which shall be due or owing to the partnership, without receiving the full amount thereof.

17. Each partner shall punctually pay his separate debts and indemnify the other partner and the capital and property of the partnership against the same and all expenses on account
