

X
 Receivers' Title to Real Estate
 State of South Carolina
 County of Greenville
 Whereas, Berry-Fortune Construction Company on or about the day of February, 1927, did exhibit its complaint in the Court of Common Pleas for Greenville County S. C. suing in behalf of itself and all other creditors of Fryson Development Company, against Fryson Development Company, as Defendant, praying an injunction against the prosecution of all actions and proceedings against the Fryson Development Company, or its property; that all creditors and claimants of whatever class or character be both permitted and required to set up their claims and demands in that action within the time limited by the Court or be barred, and that Receivers be appointed to liquidate the affairs of Fryson Development Company, sell and dispose of its assets and administer the proceeds under the direction of the Court, and such proceedings being had therein as resulted in an Order and Decree for the sale by the Receiver of the real estate herein below described, and the foreclosure of all the various liens thereon, and, whereas, the said Decree and Order of sale authorized and directed the Receiver, after due advertisement, to offer the real estate of said Company, located in the State of South Carolina, at public auction to the highest bidder for each, the purchaser to pay for stamps and papers, on the premises at Fryson N. C. on August 15th, 1927, and that the same be first offered in separate parcels, determined by the boundaries of the property included in the several mortgages to be foreclosed, and then as a whole, the sale bringing the greater price to be declared the legal sale, and provided further, that in case the sale in separate parcels should prevail and the best bidder therefor should be the holder of first lien thereon, the Receiver should allow such purchaser the amount of their respective lien debts as a credit on their respective bids, less their respective proportionate shares of the costs, fees and expenses taxed and allowed in this proceeding, and authorized the Receiver to

Over