

execute powers of attorney to authorize another to vote as proxy for said trustee, to employ agents and counsel and determine and pay reasonable compensation therefor, and to reimburse itself for these and any other expenses and charges he may deem necessary to incur.

(4) In making any division or distribution of the trust estate, the trustee shall have the power to value and appraise any assets and to distribute such assets in kind at such appraised value; said trustee shall have authority to determine any question which may arise as to what constitutes income and what constitutes principal or corpus.

(5) Said trustee shall cause and permit the net income accruing from said trust estate to accumulate until my daughter, Martha Ann Echols, shall arrive at the age of twenty-one years, at which time said trustee shall pay to my said daughter, Martha Ann Echols, an amount equivalent to one-third of said accumulative net income, and thereafter my said trustee shall pay to said daughter, Martha Ann Echols, annually, the net income accruing from said trust estate until my said daughter above named arrives at the age of twenty-five years, at which time said trustee shall pay to my said daughter, another payment equivalent to one-third of the accumulated income, and thereafter pay to my said daughter annually, the net income accruing from said trust estate until my said daughter arrives at the age of thirty years, at which time said trustee shall pay to said daughter a payment representing the final one-third of the accumulated income and thereafter pay to my said daughter the net income accruing from said estate until she arrives at the age of thirty-five years, at which time my said trustee shall transfer, assign and convey to my said daughter the corpus of said trust. However, should my said daughter die prior to the termination of this trust leaving a child or children, such child or children will receive the payments and