

8. The general nature of the business for which the corporation is organized is (it is not necessary to set forth in the purposes powers enumerated in Section 2.2) (12-12.2 Supplemental Code 1962)

To operate a general residential construction business, and to purchase, sell, mortgage and otherwise deal in and dispose of all types of real estate and buildings, and to do all things necessary or conducive to the aforesaid objects and purposes.

9. Provisions which the incorporators elect to include in the articles of incorporation are as follows:

(a) The sale, transfer or other disposal of any share or shares of the capital stock of this Corporation shall be controlled by the terms and conditions of that Certain Buy and Sell Agreement between all of the stockholders of the Corporation on this date, which Agreement provides that upon the death of any stockholder, or should any stockholder desire to transfer and sell his shares of stock in the Corporation to any other person or persons, then the same shall be first offered to the other shareholders of the Corporation at the price more fully set forth and determined by the terms of said Agreement.