

It was the understanding by all of the above heirs of the said James A. McC Carson that the tract of land mentioned above conveyed by John A. Cox to James A. McC Carson was conveyed to their mother, Hattie J. McC Carson, prior to her death. If this deed was ever executed, the said deed was never recorded, and, therefore, has been lost or misplaced.

In order to eliminate any doubts concerning the title to this property, the grantors are executing this deed to the grantee in order to convey any interest which they might have acquired in said property as heirs at law of James A. McC Carson.

At the request of the grantee, the said James C. Thomson and Virginia F. Thomson, as owners in adjoining property, are joining in this deed for the purpose of conveying any interest, if any, in the above described property.
