

7. The husband and wife agree that they will each provide the necessary support for the child or children who are in their respective custody and both parties agree that they will attempt to supply additional support for emergencies of the children in their custody and for college and/or professional education for such children who the other party has in its responsibility for general support and maintenance. Both parties hereby state and agree that they desire all three children to have opportunity of having a college education and both agree that they will cooperate to this end with the income of such parties being a factor to consider in providing such expenses for college education.

8. It is agreed between the parties that they shall file a joint federal and state income tax return for 1974 with the parties each being entitled to one-half (1/2) of any refund and each one-half (1/2) responsible for any liability; and that for subsequent years, the husband and wife will file separately each using themselves as exemptions and such children as either might have full responsibility for the custody, control and support as set out hereinabove.

9. The wife acknowledges that the provisions of this agreement for support and maintenance are fair under the circumstances and she accepts the provisions made herein on her behalf, in full and final settlement, and in satisfaction of all claims and demands for alimony or for any other provision for support and maintenance, and she fully discharges the husband from all such claims and demands except as provided in this agreement.

10. The parties agree that from the date of the execution of this agreement neither party will incur any debts which the other will be liable for or responsible for and any joint credit cards or charge accounts shall be cancelled.

11. The husband agrees to be responsible for his counsel fees and the wife agrees to be responsible for her counsel fees in connection with their domestic difficulties involving this agreement and any further action which might take place.
