- 8. To employ fiscal and other suitable agents and counsel and to pay their reasonable expenses and compensation.
- 1. To execute and deliver any and all instruments in writing which it may deem advisable to carry out any of the foregoing powers. No party to any such instrument in writing signed by the Trustee shall be obliged to inquire into its validity, or be bound to see to the application by the Trustee of any monies or other property paid or delivered to it by such party pursuant to the terms of any such instrument.

5. Limitations of Trustee's power. No powers of the Trustee enumerated herein or now or hereafter conferred upon the Trustee generally shall be construed to enable the Trustee, or any other person, to purchase, exchange or otherwise deal with or dispose of all or any part of the corpus of the trust for less than adequate consideration in money or monies worth. No person, other than the Trustee, shall have or exercise the power to vote or direct the voting of any stock or securities of the trust, to control the investments of the trust, either by directing investments or reinvestments or by vetoing proposed investments or reinvestments, or to reacquire or exchange any property of the trust by substituting other property of equivalent value.

6. Accounting by Trustee. During the term of this trust, the Trustee shall render to the Settlor statements of account of its receipts and disbursements as Trustee hereunder at least annually. The Trustee shall be entitled to receive a fair and just compensation for its services hereunder and shall also be reimbursed for all reasonable expenses incurred in the management and protection of the trust estate.

7. Additional property. The Settlor or any other person so desiring shall have the right at any time and from time to time with the consent of the Trustee to transfer, assign, convey, devise and bequeath any additional securities or property to the Trustee to be held by it under this agreement.

8. Irrevocable trust. This trust hereby created shall be irrevocable and shall not be altered, amended, revoked or terminated, in whole or in part, by the Settlor. The Settlor hereby renounces for herself, and her estate, any power to determine or control, by alteration, amendment, or termination or otherwise, the provisions of this trust. This trust herein created shall continue for the lifetime of the Settlor as herein set forth above.

9. Recommendations. It is recommended that the Trustee consult with the Settlor concerning the distribution of the monthly income of this trust estate, and concerning payment of all medical bills as well as travel expenses, but this is not required.
