On behalf of Greenville County, I am pleased to invite you to an electronic recording (eRecording) of land record documents seminar. The meeting will be from 10:00 am until 12:00 pm on Wednesday, May 23rd, 2007 in Greenville County Council Chambers.

To an organization such as yours that regularly submits land record documents to Greenville County via (express) mail, runner or courier service, the availability of eRecording services means you will be able to securely and cost-effectively file documents with the County through a Web browser from the comfort and convenience of your office.

Not only can eRecording save you time and money, it also accelerates document recordings, increases your office productivity, and actually increases the security of documents you file with the County. In most cases, you probably already have the equipment you need to begin submitting documents electronically.

SimplifileSM, the market leader in electronic document filing and recording services, has agreed to facilitate this seminar for Greenville County. The purpose of this seminar is to introduce you to the changes that will be impacting our industry in the coming years. Many states such as North Carolina and Georgia are already using eRecording as an effective tool for recording land records.

To RSVP for the seminar, please contact Lessie Austin by email at laustin@greenvillecounty.org or at 864-467-7242 to let us know how many from your office will be in attendance.

I look forward to seeing you at the meeting.

Best regards,

Timothy L. Nanney
