RE: Letter of Support for SCPRT Property Acquisition Wingard/Pipsissewa Passage in Greenville County

Dear Terry Hurley:

Greenville County supports South Carolina Parks Recreation and Tourism's (SCPRT) work with Naturaland Trust a non-profit, to acquire 65 acres adjacent to Paris Mountain State Park in Greenville County. The Wingard property is also known as "Pipsissewa Passage" SCPRT is working to protect and provide public access.

This tract is directly adjacent to Paris Mountain State Park and will provide more access for visitors as its location is ideal for expanding the parks existing trail system. One residential structure is located on this property, however, the value of this property to SCPRT is the land. In addition to providing more recreation access to the public, acquiring this tract further contributes to the resiliency and integrity of Paris Mountain State Park.

Greenville County supports this acquisition of this 65 acre Wingard/Pipsissewa Passage tract and the recreational access to Paris Mountain State Park managed by SCPRT.

Sincerely,

Dan Tripp
County Council Chairman
