

BOOK 834 PAGE 640

a party, shall be and become the Successor-Trustee herein, with all the powers, discretion, and duties herein conferred upon the original Trustee or Successor-Trustee herein.

Whenever the word "Trustee", or any pronoun thereof, is used in this trust agreement, such term or pronoun therefor shall be deemed to include both the masculine and the neuter gender thereof.

V.

The Grantor hereby divests herself irrevocably of any right to annul, retract, or diminish this gift, or to alter, revoke, terminate, or to amend this instrument, and does hereby forever irrevocably renounce any benefit from the trust property. The Grantor shall, however, have the right to make additions to this trust estate, under the same terms as herein provided, from time to time as the occasion may arise.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the Grantor and Trustee have hereunto set their hands and seals, this day and year first above written.
