

(3.) In the event that one of the trustees should come by her death or become disabled, then the surviving trustee shall have power to perform alone, in the event that both are unable to carry out the terms of this trust, then their successors shall carry out their duties.

(continued on next page)