

walks; provided, however, the Landlord will not be responsible for or required to make, and Tenant shall make, any repairs which may have been occasioned or necessitated by Tenant, its agents or employees or by the failure of Tenant to comply with its covenants under this Lease Agreement.

Neither Landlord nor Tenant shall be required to repair for normal wear and tear.

9. TENANT'S COVENANT TO MAINTAIN: The Tenant will, at his own expense, keep and maintain in good order and repair the interior portion of its space in the demised premises; and Tenant will, at the end of the term of this lease or any extensions thereof, deliver the demised premises to the Landlord in as good condition as the same were when received by it, excepting only normal wear and tear and repairs not required to be made by Tenant; provided, however, that the Tenant shall not be responsible for or required to make, and Landlord shall make, any repairs which may have been occasioned or necessitated by Landlord, its agents or employees, or by the failure of the Landlord to comply with the covenants under this Lease Agreement. In addition, the Tenant shall forthwith, at its own cost and expense, replace with glass of the same quality any damaged or broken glass, including plate glass or glass or other breakable materials used in any interior and exterior windows and doors in the demised premises.

Landlord shall furnish the initial air conditioning and heating systems for the demised premises. The cost of the maintenance, operation, repair and replacement of the air conditioning and heating system(s) shall be the sole responsibility of the Tenant. In the event Tenant is required to replace the air conditioning and/or heating, the replacement thereof shall be with equipment which is of like kind and character as the equipment being replaced and capable of meeting the heating and/or cooling requirements for Tenants premises. In the event such replacement occurs while the initial systems are covered by manufacturers warranty or warranties, or if the replacement is caused by a calamity for which Landlord has procured insurance, the full

0106

4328 RV-21