

in substitution therefor, a new bond (with appropriate appurtenant Coupons) at the same date, maturity, tenor and amount as the old bond, upon cancelling the old bond and coupons, if mutilated: Provided, However, that in case of such destruction or loss, evidence thereof and indemnity therefor (in the form of a surety bond by a responsible surety company for twice the face value of the new bond) shall first be furnished them. The applicant for such new bond shall pay the cost of lithographing or engraving it (whichever the Corporate Trustee shall prefer) and the reasonable charges of the Corporate Trustee in this connection, and shall comply with such other reasonable regulations as may be prescribed by the Mortgagee or Corporate Trustee.

Section 8: Effect of Extending Time for Paying Bonds or Coupons: If the time for paying any bonds or coupons shall be extended, whether or not the Mortgagee consents thereto, such bonds or coupons (subject to the immediately following Section of this Article) shall not be entitled, in case of default hereunder, to the benefit of security of this instrument, except subject to the prior payment in full of all other debts secured hereby.

Section 9: Right of Bankers to Purchase Bonds and Coupons at Maturity: If the Mortgagee fails to promptly provide funds for paying bonds or coupons when and where payable, the Bankers may at their option purchase the same at par when presented for payment, without giving notice to the Trustee or to anyone else, all bonds and coupons issued hereunder being hereby made expressly subject to such right of purchase. The Mortgagee and holders of the bonds or coupons so purchased hereby expressly authorize such purchase by the Bankers in any such contingency or contingencies. The bonds and coupons so purchased (whether in the hands of the Bankers or of their assigns) shall not be subject to the provisions of the immediately preceding Section of this Article and shall be deemed overdue obligations of the Mortgagee, and the purchasers thereof shall in all respects be treated as bona fide purchasers for a valuable consideration: Provided, However, that if when so purchased the Mortgagee shall still be in default in paying any bonds or coupons of a previous maturity hereunder, then the bonds or coupons so purchased shall be subject to the provisions of the immediately preceding Section of this Article.
